John's List of NJ Apartment Contents

My sister lived in apartment full time for about 3 years and furnished most of apartment. I eventually did replace some furniture over time and that furniture which belonged to me was in the appraisal

Many items John listed in apartment did not belong to me. It was a leased apartment. Kitchen lights and appliances were part of apartment and could not be removed.

Items he listed that actually belonged to me are extremely overinflated. Items belonging to me were appraised and appraisal is in next document. Also note all items John listed such as appliances, he chose not to list in the home we shared.

Many items John listed just plain did not exist.

If you add the total of the items John listed, including things I did not own or that did not exist, His total comes to $10,100.

The appraisal of apartment contents belonging to me $1,345.

John and attorneys claimed the value of apartment contents $26,345.
